PRINCIPAL ELECTED FOR CREST SCHOOL

Indiana Teachers Successful Applicant—Coard to Adjourn at 10:30

The school board at a regular monthly meeting held last night elected Miss Nolle Lee, of Indiana, Pa., the principal of the Crest avenue building for the coming term. A number of bills were ordered paid. A report of the work being done by the janitors in painting the Crest avenue building was made. The board spent some time in the discussion of the work for the coming year, and passed a resolution that each meeting should be adjourned at 10:30 o'clock. The school board holds all records in Charleroi for long sessions, one of the first of the present organization extending from 8 o'clock one evening until 3 the next morning. This was during the election of teachers.

STORK DESCENDS WITH SUDDENNESS

Places Burden on Street Corner Before Arrival of Hastily Summoned Physicians

The stork made a descent into Charleroi about 10 o'clock last night that was somewhat sudden and unexpected. The flight ended near the corner of Ninth street and Fallowfield avenue, and by the time some of the neighboring women and a couple of physicians had been summoned, the stork had deposited its burden beneath the starry dome of the heavens. A rig was procured and mother and child were hustled to the Monessen-Charleroi hospital, and reports this morning are that both were doing well. The mother is German girl from Monessen, and with her when the interesting event occurred was said to be a Charleroi man.

ACHESON STILL SORE OVER HIS THROWDOWN

New Castle Herald Tells How Washington Countian Acts Naughty.

Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, is of the number who mourn and refuse to be comforted. Apparently Acheson can never forgive John K. Tener for defeating him for the Congressional nomination two years ago. Through the columns of his paper, the Washington Observer, he is now talking of a great National scandal that he hopes will carry Mr. Tener, the Republican nominee for Governor, and Mr. Grim, the Democratic, into the shades of obliquity—New Castle Herald.

CANNOT REMEMBER POSITION OF AUTO

Mrs. Hamilton Just Beginning to Realize Awful Results of Accident

Well on her way to recovery, Mrs. Hamilton, one of the women injured in the automobile accident over a week ago, is just beginning to remember the events immediately preceding the accident, and to realize the terrible results. While she has not been told that her husband and son are dead, she appears to know that they are. Yesterday she remembered for the first time since the accident the kind of clothes she had on, and spoke of packing a lunch. She does not recall the position of the automobile when the car struck it, or anything that occurred after the machine passed a little bridge previous to going on the tracks. Miss Blanche Matheny is convalescent but like Mrs. Hamilton remembers a little of the accident. Neither can say in what position the occupants of the automobile were when the machine was struck.

LUTHERANS WIN FROM BAPTISTS

Errors Figure Largely in Result of Game Last Night

The Lutherans, ably assisted by the Baptists, succeeded in taking the game from the latter last night by the score of 7 to 1. The contest was rather interesting at times, but the Baptists had their off night, and let ones that counted get past them. The Lutherans scored three in the first inning, on one hit, two errors and a life, and in the third got the same number on a hit, and two costly errors. They finished scoring in the fourth on three bingles, getting one tally. The Baptists chased around their only one in the second inning, when Morris got a walk, was forced too second when Sample was hit by a pitched ball, stole third and came home on an error. The score:

Wertz, 1	1	1	1	0	0
Mason, 3	2	2	1	0	1

WOULD CAUSE BREAK IN PIKE

P. R. R. Said to be Preparing to Tear Down Brownsville Bridge.

A peculiar situation will arise if the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which has purchased the old wooden river bridge between West Brownsville and Brownsville, carries out its plans to at once tear this structure down, says the Washington Observer.

This bridge which was built in 1833 connects the pike between these two towns, but the bridge and the land at either side did belong to a bridge company, composed of men of the Brownsville section. The bridge has never been the property of the pike and has always been a toll bridge. The Government has condemned the bridge and has ordered its removal. The bridge company having had an offer from the railroad company for the purchase of the bridge decided to sell rather than be subject to the penalty imposed by the Government for its non-removal and to avoid the expense of taking the old structure down.

The railroad company by securing control of the bridge can enlarge the track bed on the Brownsville side. With the bridge torn down there will be left no way to get across the river between West Brownsville and Brownsville, unless a ferry line is operated. The nearest bridge for vehicle traffic is at Speers.

It is understood that the original plan of the pike is changed to suit the location of the old wooden bridge, but by no legal process. The pike as originally laid out, crossed the river farther up the stream. The pike is now the property of the State and the question also arises as whether or not it will be up to the State to erect a new bridge across the river on the original route of the pike, and not leave the road connection broken at that point.

If the bridge is torn down it will make it rather inconvenient for the business interests of Brownsville and West Brownsville and for auto tourists over the pike. At times during the winter it might be impossible to even ferry the river.

GRANT CERTIFICATES TO LARGE NUMBER

County Superintendent Crumrine Completes Task of Examining Manuscripts

County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine has completed the task of examining the manuscripts submitted by applicants for provisional certificates, and reports that a total of 396 persons were examined for provisional certificates, 275 of whom were successful. In addition to these were 18 applicants who failed in securing professional certificates, but were granted provisionals, making a total of 293 provisional certificates issued. In the class applying for professional certificates were 33 teachers, 15 of whom were successful.

DYING MAN FOUND ALONG ROADWAY

Victim of Tuberculosis Hastened to Hospital by Physician

After having lain in the open air a night and the greater part of the day without attendance, Thomas McGuire, late of Charleroi was taken to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela yesterday afternoon, suffering from tuberculosis. The man was when found near death's door.

McGuire was found at the entrance to the Sphar home at Roscoe yesterday. Dr. Collier was called in attendance and sent him to the hospital. He is a man about 45 years old, and was a former resident of West Brownsville, where he has relatives. He had evidently been on his way there. By his side when found was a pail of milk, his sole nourishment.

COMMISSION DECIDES IMPORTANT MATTERS

No Protested Games Thrown Out According to Decision Reached Last Night

The managers of various teams of the church league aired their grievances at a meeting of the managers and the commission last night in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company hall, and the commission settled amicably many points in dispute.

All protested games were allowed to stand. Catcher Herbert Mason, who played for the greater part of the season with the Baptists, but who was secured later by the Lutherans, was awarded to the Baptists. The Christians were allowed to retain Pitcher Tobin, but shortstop Waters was declared ineligible. The Catholics will be allowed to use Catcher Courtney. Disposition of Catcher McGuire was made by sending him to the Lutherans.

The statement was made that efforts had been made to tamper with players, and all managers and others were instructed that such action would not be tolerated. If any player has a grievance he is to present it to the commission at once for immediate settlement. All managers were instructed that no releases or trades would be valid henceforth.

HOSPITAL HAS A GOOD MONTH

According to the report of Miss Miller, chief nurse at the Monessen-Charleroi hospital, mostly surgical cases were treated at the institution last month. The hospital had a good record during June.

Twenty-five patients were discharged, and 17 were admitted. Four deaths occurred, one from concussion of the brain, one from typhoid pneumonia, and two after surgical operations. There were but four cases other than surgical cases treated, and these were for typhoid. Three patients recently admitted are now in serious condition, one of them being a foreigner injured in the Pittsburgh Steel company's plant at Monessen Wednesday. Donations were received from Mrs. T. L. Daly and Mrs. Nutt.

SPALDING SENDS CONGRATULATIONS

Hon. J. K. Tener is still receiving congratulations from business men, baseball players and from all classes all over the country. Among the latest is one from A. G. Spalding, the noted head of the Spalding sporting goods house, who is probably the most noted man in baseball these days, who telegraphs from Point Loma, California, the following:
"Just heard of your nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. Please accept my congratulations. Any man that has successfully financed party of base ball players around the world should make a good Governor, as I know you will."
A. G. Spalding.

Mrs. L. R. Walters and Mrs. Edgar B. Walters were visiting at Fayette City yesterday.

NOT WEDDED BUT HAD TO WASH THE DISHES

California Man Files Defense in Suit Brought by Housekeeper

Alleging he was compelled to wash dishes, make beds, care for his children and perform other household duties besides his regular work, Jesse Lewellen of California has filed his affidavit of defense in the action brought against him in the county court by Mrs. Sarah Gregg for wages as housekeeper. Lewellen also alleges the housekeeper abused his children and struck him if he intervened. Lewellen says he discharged Mrs. Gregg several times but could not keep her away until she was placed in a hospital.

"ALFY" HAS HAD SOME EXPERIENCE

Writes About Fireworks, Mittens and Things in Answer to Spectator

To the Editor of the Mail:

A few days ago I craved your indulgence for a trifle of space to make an apology to the public which I thought was due them. I explained why certain things turned out as they did. I did not do it with the intention of starting a discussion as to the relative merits of the different committees. Speaking of fireworks I have seen and heard Chinese fire works exploded in China. I have seen and heard Japanese fireworks exploded in Japan, and hope it will not be considered a case of exaggerated ego when I say I think I know more as to the manner and method of exploding fireworks to the best advantage than any man in Charleroi.

It has been suggested why did I not hire an experienced man? To the lay mind this looks and sounds good, but to me behind the scenes, who heard the finance and executive committee cheese-paring and hair-splitting, how they were going to finish the day and not show a balance due, it sounds different. I have hobnobbed with foreign nobility and royalty at Keil in Germany; at Cowes and Epsom Downs in England, and with many of our native nobility at home who require no title for their nobility, and when I learned at first that somebody had broken his legs, I thought it was some of the executive or financial committee who had broken their legs scrambling to get in touch and rub elbows with the great or near great. "Alfy" had plenty of time during the day, but it was noticeable that he made no strenuous efforts to climb into an automobile alongside of the before mentioned great or near great and become great himself by absorption.

"Wise Guy" speaks of the remote possibility of me ever getting burned by igniting my own hot plate. That is a subject that is well known that I am particularly sensitive on, but I will wager a goodly sum, that if "Wise Guy" were to exhibit the mittens he has had handed to him they would make an interesting exhibit both as to kind and number.

Yesterday's newspaper speaks of a disturbance at several observatories, that an earthquake had occurred some place. No such event took place. It was simply "Wise Guy" spreading and keep your helm jammed hard for that knowledge box of yours "Wise Guy," don't strain it too hard with

HEALTH OFFICER HAS COMPLAINTS

Burning of Rubbish on Alleys and Vacant Lots Must be Stopped.

According to Health Officer William Darby, people must stop burning rubbish on vacant lots within the borough limits. The practice is one of which many are guilty. This morning Mr. Darby gave to the Mail a list of grievances which he and the garbage collector, Harry Perry, have. One was concerning the charge for getting garbage from the top of a building. This is more than the usual rate of 15 cents, and complaints have been made. Some persons who have barrels of garbage to be removed have made the complaint that too much is charged for them. Mr. Darby says that in the cases where complaints are made the barrel are larger, and the collector is entitled to an extra allowance above the usual rate for hauling the contents. Chicken coops are causing some trouble, and there is a grievance because real estate men permit foreigners occupying houses to keep the surroundings in a positive filthy state. The health laws are absolute where health committees support the health officer, and Mr. Darby intends to enforce them.

BUSINESS MEN TO HAVE BULL ROAST

Preparations Being Made For Outing at Eldora Park August 17.

A bull roast is being planned as one of the features of the Business Men's picnic, which it is proposed to hold at Eldora Park on August 17. A meeting of the association was held last night, which was not largely attended, however, and plans take over for the holding of the picnic. Committees will likely be appointed soon to arrange for the affair. The canvass for new members of the Business Men's Association is still going on, and new names are being added to the roll.

WEATHER DOES NOT STOP THIS PICNIC

Lynn's Grove Too Damp, So Affair is Held on Church Lawn

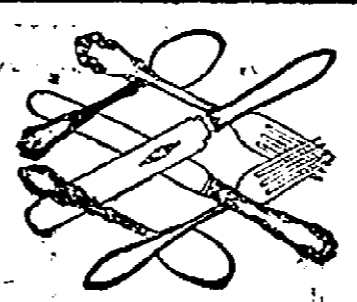

The wet weather did not prevent the Sunday school of St. Mary's church from enjoying a picnic yesterday, although it was not at the place planned. The Sunday school went to Lynn's Grove, near Belle Vernon on an early morning car, but the rain made the grass and grounds too damp for any enjoyment, and along about noon the party came back. Adjourning to the Sunday school room in the church, a picnic dinner was served after which the "picnicers" enjoyed themselves with games on the lawn of the church. Two ball teams composed of two classes went on the hill for a game.

more efforts like that of yesterday. See that your compass is adjusted. See that you have a good anchor, and keep your helm jammed hard for that knowledge box of yours "Wise Guy," don't strain it too hard with

Money in Politics

The move for an audit of the expense account of Joseph C. Sibley, Republican candidate for Congress in the Twenty-eighth district, may disclose some of the intricacies of modern politics. Mr. Sibley filed an account in accordance with the provisions of the primary law, stating that his expenses were in the neighborhood of $50,000. This has given rise to the charge that voters were bribed wholesale, and a demand has been made for an investigation.

It is not likely, however, that Mr. Sibley has laid himself liable to prosecution. The law prescribes as to how money can be used, and may be expended in political campaigns, and this latitude is wide enough to satisfy the most opulent. Under modern conditions each candidate for office sets out to create an independent organization of his own, and by the time a Congressional candidate makes a house to house canvass in three or four counties, advertises unlimitedly in all the newspapers in the district at line and space rates, employs campaign managers in every precinct, and keeps them going night and day, pays watchers on election day in every precinct, and adds to these the salaries of stenographers, secretaries, telegraph, telephone, and traveling expenses, hotel bills, and the numerous incidentals, an unlimited sum can be expended without literally transgressing the law. This is why no candidates for State office ever attempts a campaign of all the counties for a nomination. By the time a canvas was made to influence the election of favorable delegates in the sixty-seven counties, the expense would bankrupt a millionaire.

"It was E. F. Acheson who spoiled Washington county so far as spending money is concerned," said one of the latter's former field workers during the campaign last fall. "In the campaign of 1905 and 1906, when the Citizens and Lincoln Republicans got after Acheson, money was literally poured into the campaign by his workers especially along the river district. There committeemen were given snug sums for services they used to perform for the good of the party, and the result is that payment is expected each campaign. The bulk of this money, of course, was collected from the liquor interests, as I happen to know from personal experience." It is the candidates themselves who are to blame for the excessive cost of campaigns, but much of this cost can be eliminated by cutting off the grafters who make it a point to solicit and accept money from all candidates under the promise of working for each. There is room for reform in this respect.

Why?

Numerous expressions are heard on the streets these days that Charleroi will be dull, now that the Fourth is passed. The inference is that little or no effort will be made on the part of the business people here to promote and induce trade, and with this feeling spread abroad, outside people may not deem it worth while to come to Charleroi to trade. Instead they are likely to go to other towns where the business people do not acknowledge any dull season in the year.

Dull seasons are now largely a matter of violation. While it is true that the spring and winter seasons produce different conditions in trade, there can be a steady current between times of buying and selling promoted and kept going. Why does a street fakir stand on the corner and sell a hundred dollars' worth of articles that the local stores carry? Why does a silk or linen peddler dispose of several hundred dollars' worth of products in the resident section of the town which the local stores sell cheaper than he does? The fakir and peddler take no account of seasons. They are on the job in spring, summer fall and winter—in warm weather and cold—before pay day and after. This is a valuable business tip. Why a dull season in Charleroi?

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Now that the big fight and celebrations incident to the Fourth of July are over why not let people settle down to the even tenor of their existence?

That fireworks display which Charleroi either had or didn't have has provoked considerable talk in town.

With football declared law-breaking, what will the autumn girl do for a hero?

Those new skirts which bind at the knees and then some are said to have something on the cutaway effect of the sheath gowns. The next style will doubtless be something of more than gown.

Very Important:

We notice from our Estimate Record Books during the last weeks sales that the people are estimating beyond reason, their estimates ranging from 10,000 to 1,000,000. To put everybody right we wish to inform you that the window display is not all soap but one layer of soap and mirrors built in front of a large framework of lumber. In order that you may estimate the exact number possibly, during this week we will continue the sale one week longer before tearing it down, in order that you may make new estimates where you have overestimated by making new purchases.

Remember the price of each cake continues 5c a cake instead of 25c a cake

PRINCIPAL ELECTED FOR CREST SCHOOL

Indiana Teachers Successful Applicant—Coard to Adjourn at 10:30

The school board at a regular monthly meeting held last night elected Miss Nello Lee, of Indiana, Pa., the principal of the Crest avenue building for the coming term. A number of bills were ordered paid. A report of the work being done by the four janitors in painting the Crest avenue building was made.

The board spent some time in the discussion of the work for the coming year and passed a resolution that each meeting should be adjourned at 10:30 o'clock. The school board holds all records in Charleroi for long sessions, one of the first of the present organization extending from 8 o'clock one evening until 3 the next morning. This was during the election of teachers.

STORK DESCENDS WITH SUDDENNESS

Places Burden on Street Corner Before Arrival of Hastily Summoned Physicians

The stork made a descent into Charleroi about 10 o'clock last night that was somewhat sudden and unexpected. The flight ended near the corner of Ninth street and Fallowfield avenue, and by the time some of the neighboring women and a couple of physicians had been summoned the stork had deposited its burden beneath the stary dome of the heavens. A rig was procured and mother and child were hustled to the Monessen-Charleroi hospital, and reports this morning are that both were doing well. The mother is German girl from Monessen, and with her when the interesting event occurred was said to be a Charleroi man.

CANNOT REMEMBER POSITION OF AUTO

Mrs. Hamilton Just Beginning to Realize Awful Results of Accident

Well on her way to recovery, Mrs. Hamilton, one of the women injured in the automobile accident over a week ago, is just beginning to remember the events immediately preceding the accident, and to realize the terrible results. While she has not been told that her husband and son are dead, she appears to know that they are. Yesterday she remembered for the first time since the accident the kind of clothes she had on, and spoke of packing a lunch. She does not recall the position of the automobile when the car struck it, or anything that occurred after the machine passed a little bridge previous to going on the tracks. Miss Blanche Matheny is convalescent but like Mrs. Hamilton remembers a little of the accident. Neither can say in what position the occupants of the automobile were when the machine was struck.

LUTHERANS WIN FROM BAPTISTS

Errors Figure Largely in Result of Game Last Night

The Lutherans, ably assisted by the Baptists, succeeded in taking the game from the latter last night by the score of 7 to 1. The contest was rather interesting at times, but the Baptists had their off night, and let ones that counted get past them. The Lutherans scored three in the first inning, on one hit, two errors and a life, and in the third got the same number on a hit, and two costly errors. They finished scoring in the fourth on three bingles, getting one but, 2, 1, 0. The Baptists chased around their only one in the second inning, when Morris got a walk, was forced too second, when Sample was hit by a pitched ball, stole third and came home on an error. The score:

	Lutherans	R	H	P	A	E

WOULD CAUSE BREAK IN PIKE

P. R. R. Said to be Preparing to Tear Down Brownsville Bridge.

A peculiar situation will arise if the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which has purchased the old wooden river bridge between West Brownsville and Brownsville, carries out its plans to at once tear this structure down, says the Washington Observer.

This bridge which was built in 1833 connects the pike between these two towns, but the bridge and the land at either side did belong to a bridge company, composed of men of the Brownsville section. The bridge has never been the property of the pike and has always been a toll bridge. The Government has condemned the bridge and has ordered its removal. The bridge company having had an offer from the railroad company for the purchase of the bridge decided to sell rather than be subject to the penalty imposed by the Government for its non-removal and to avoid the expense of taking the old structure down.

The railroad company by securing control of the bridge can enlarge the trackage ground on the Brownsville side. With the bridge torn down there will be left no way to get across the river between West Brownsville and Brownsville, unless a ferry line is operated. The nearest bridge for vehicle traffic is at Speers.

It is understood that the original plan of the pike is changed to suit the location of the old wooden bridge, but by no legal process. The pike as originally laid out crossed the river farther up the stream. The pike is now the property of the State and the question also arises as whether or not it will be up to the State to erect a new bridge across the river on the original route of the pike, and not leave the road connection broken at that point.

If the bridge is torn down it will make it rather inconvenient for the business interests of Brownsville and West-Brownsville and for auto tourists over the pike. At times during the winter it might be impossible to even ferry the river.

GRANT CERTIFICATES TO LARGE NUMBER

County Superintendent Cramme Completes Task of Examining Manuscripts

County Superintendent L. R. Cramme has completed the task of examining the manuscripts submitted by applicants for provisional certificates, and reports that a total of 396 persons were examined for provisional certificates, 275 of whom were successful. In addition to these were 18 applicants who failed in securing professional certificates, but were granted provisionals, making a total of 293 provisional certificates issued. In the class applying for professional certificates were 33 teachers, 15 of whom were successful.

DYING MAN FOUND ALONG ROADWAY

Victim of Tuberculosis Hastened to Hospital by Physician

After having lain in the open air a night and the greater part of the day without attendance, Thomas McGuire, late of Charleroi was taken to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela yesterday afternoon, suffering from tuberculosis. The man was when found near death's door.

McGuire was found at the entrance to the Spahr home at Rescue yesterday. Dr. Collier was called in attendance and sent him to the hospital. He is a man about 45 years old, and was a former resident of West Brownsville, where he has relatives. He had evidently been on his way there. By his side when found was a pail of milk, his sole nourishment.

COMMISSION DECIDES IMPORTANT MATTERS

No Protested Games Thrown Out According to Decision Reached Last Night

The managers of various teams of the church league aired their grievances at a meeting of the managers and the commission last night in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company hall, and the commission settled amicably many points in dispute.

All protested games were allowed to stand. Catcher Herbert Mason, who played for the greater part of the season with the Baptists, but who was secured later by the Lutherans, was awarded to the Baptists. The Christians were allowed to retain Pitcher Tobin, but shortstop Waters was declared ineligible. The Catholics will be allowed to use Catcher Courtney. Disposition of Catcher McGuire was made by sending him to the Lutherans.

The statement was made that efforts had been made to tamper with players, and all managers and others were instructed that such action would not be tolerated. If any player has a grievance he is to present it to the commission at once for immediate settlement. All managers were instructed that no releases or trades would be valid henceforth.

HOSPITAL HAS A GOOD MONTH

According to the report of Miss Miller, chief nurse at the Monessen-Charleroi hospital, mostly surgical cases were treated at the institution last month. The hospital had a good record during June.

Twenty-five patients were discharged, and 17 were admitted. Four deaths occurred, one from concussion of the brain, one from typhoid pneumonia, and two after surgical operations. There were but four cases other than surgical cases treated, and these were for typhoid. Three patients recently admitted are now in serious condition, one of them being a foreigner injured in the Pittsburgh Steel company's plant at Monessen Wednesday. Donations were received from Mrs. T. L. Daly and Mrs. Nutt.

SPALDING SENDS CONGRATULATIONS

Hon. J. K. Tener is still receiving congratulations from business men, baseball players and from all classes all over the country. Among the latest is one from A. G. Spalding, the noted head of the Spalding sporting goods house, who is probably the most noted man in baseball these days, who telegraphs from Point Boma, California, the following: "Just heard of your nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. Please accept my congratulations. Any man that has successfully financed party of baseball players around the world should make a good Governor, as I know you will."

A. G. Spalding.

Mrs. L. R. Walters and Mrs. Edgar B. Walters were visiting at Fayette City yesterday.

NOT WEDDED BUT HAD TO WASH THE DISHES

California Man Files Defense in Suit Brought by Housekeeper

Alleging he was compelled to wash dishes, make beds, care for his children and perform other household duties besides his regular work, Jesse Lewellen of California has filed his affidavit of defense in the action brought against him in the county court by Mrs. Sarah Gregg for wages as housekeeper. Lewellen also alleges the housekeeper abused his children and struck him.

"ALFY" HAS HAD SOME EXPERIENCE

Writes About Fireworks, Mittens and Things in Answer to Spectator

To the Editor of the Mail:

A few days ago I craved your indulgence for a trifle of space to make an apology to the public which I thought was due them. I explained why certain things turned out as they did. I did not do it with the intention of starting a discussion as to the relative merits of the different committees. Speaking of fireworks I have seen and heard Chinese fire works exploded in China. I have seen and heard Japanese fireworks exploded in Japan, and hope it will not be considered a case of exaggerated ego when I say I think I know more as to the manner and method of exploding fireworks to the best advantage than any man in Charleroi.

It has been suggested why did I not hire an experienced man? To the lay mind this looks and sounds good, but to me behind the scenes, who heard the finance and executive committee cheese-paring and hair-splitting, how they were going to finish the day and not show a balance due, it sounds different. I have hobnobbed with foreign nobility and royalty at Keil in Germany; at Cowes and Epsom Downs in England, and with many of our native nobility at home who require no title for their nobility, and when I learned at first that somebody had broken his legs, I thought it was some of the executive or financial committee who had broken their legs scrambling to get in touch and rub elbows with the great or near great. "Alfy" had plenty of time during the day, but it was noticeable that he made no strenuous efforts to climb into an automobile alongside of the before mentioned great or near great and become great himself by absorption.

"Wise Guy" speaks of the remote possibility of me ever getting burned by igniting my own hot plate. That is a subject that is well known that I am particularly sensitive on, but I will wager a goodly sum, that if "Wise Guy" were to exhibit the mittens he has had handed to him they would make an interesting exhibit both as to kind and number.

Yesterday's newspaper speaks of a disturbance at several observatories that an earthquake had occurred some place. No such event took place. It was simply "Wise Guy" spreading sail on his think craft. Look out for that knowledge box of yours "Wise Guy," don't strain it too hard with

HEALTH OFFICER HAS COMPLAINTS

Burning of Rubbish on Alleys and Vacant Lots Must be Stopped.

According to Health Officer William Darby, people must stop burning rubbish on vacant lots within the borough limits. The practice is one of which many are guilty. This morning Mr. Darby gave to the Mail a list of grievances which he and the garbage collector, Harry Perry, have. One was concerning the charge for getting garbage from the top of a building. This is more than the usual rate of 15 cents, and complaints have been made. Some persons who have barrels of garbage to be removed have made the complaint that too much is charged for them. Mr. Darby says that in the cases where complaints are made the barrel are larger, and the collector is entitled to an extra allowance above the usual rate for hauling the contents. Chicken coops are causing some trouble, and there is a grievance because real estate men permit foreigners occupying houses to keep the surroundings in a positive filthy state. The health laws are absolute where health committees support the health officer, and Mr. Darby intends to enforce them.

BUSINESS MEN TO HAVE BULL ROAST

Preparations Being Made For Outing at Eldora Park August 17.

A bull roast is being planned as one of the features of the Business Men's picnic, which it is proposed to hold at Eldora Park on August 17. A meeting of the association was held last night, which was not largely attended, however, and plans take over for the holding of the picnic. Committees will likely be appointed soon to arrange for the affair. The canvass for new members of the Business Men's Association is still going on, and new names are being added to the roll.

WEATHER DOES NOT STOP THIS PICNIC

Lynn's Grove Too Damp, So A Fair is Held on Church Lawn

The wet weather did not prevent the Sunday school of St. Mary's church from enjoying a picnic yesterday, although it was not at the place planned. The Sunday school went to Lynn's Grove, near Belle Vernon on an early morning car, but the rain made the grass and grounds too damp for any enjoyment, and about noon the party came back. Adjourning to the Sunday school room in the church, a picnic dinner was served after which the "picnicers" enjoyed themselves with games on the lawn of the church. Two ball teams composed of two classes went on the ball for a game.

more efforts like that of yesterday. See that your compass is adjusted. See that you have a good anchor, and keep your helm jammed sharp down. Keep a sharp lookout for there are breakers ahead.

Money in Politics

The move for an audit of the expense account of Joseph C. Sibley, Republican candidate for Congress in the Twenty-eighth district, may disclose some of the intricacies of modern politics. Mr. Sibley filed an account in accordance with the provisions of the primary law, stating that his expenses were in the neighborhood of $50,000. This has given rise to the charge that voters were bribed wholesale, and a demand has been made for an investigation.

It is not likely, however, that Mr. Sibley has laid himself liable to prosecution. The law prescribes as to how money can be used, and may be expended in political campaigns, and this latitude is wide enough to satisfy the most opulent. Under modern conditions each candidate for office sets out to create an independent organization of his own, and by the time a Congressional candidate makes a house to house canvass in three or four counties, advertises unlimitedly in all the newspapers in the district at line and space rates, employs campaign managers in every precinct, and keeps them going night and day, pays watchers on election day in every precinct, and adds to these the salaries of stenographers, secretaries, telegraph, telephone, and traveling expenses, hotel bills, and the numerous incidentals, an unlimited sum can be expended without literally transgressing the law. This is why no candidates for State office ever attempts a campaign of all the counties for a nomination. By the time a canvas was made to influence the election of favorable delegates in the sixty-seven counties, the expense would bankrupt a millionaire.

"It was E. F. Acheson who spoiled Washington county so far as spending money is concerned," said one of the latter's former field workers during the campaign last fall. "In the campaign of 1905 and 1906, when the Citizens and Lincoln Republicans got after Acheson, money was literally poured into the campaign by his workers especially along the river district. There committeemen were given snug sums for services they used to perform for the good of the party, and the result is that payment is expected each campaign. The bulk of this money, of course, was collected from the liquor interests, as I happen to know from personal experience." It is the candidates themselves who are to blame for the excessive cost of campaigns, but much of this cost can be eliminated by cutting off the grafters who make it a point to solicit and accept money from all candidates under the promise of working for each. There is room for reform in this respect.

Why?

Numerous expressions are heard on the streets these days that Charleroi will be dull, now that the Fourth is passed. The inference is that little or no effort will be made on the part of the business people here to promote and induce trade, and with this feeling spread abroad, outside people may not deem it worth while to come to Charleroi to trade. Instead they are likely to go to other towns where the business people do not acknowledge any dull season in the year.

Dull seasons are now largely a matter of violation. While it is true that the spring and winter seasons produce different conditions in trade, there can be a steady current between times of buying and selling promoted and kept going. Why does a street fakir stand on the corner and sell a hundred dollars' worth of articles that the local stores carry? Why does a silk or linen peddler dispose of several hundred dollars' worth of products in the resident section of the town which the local stores sell cheaper than he does? The fakir and peddler take no account of seasons. They are on the job in spring, summer fall and winter—in warm weather and cold—before pay day and after. This is a valuable business tip. Why a dull season in Charleroi?

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Now that the big fight and celebrations incident to the Fourth of July are over why not let people settle down to the even tenor of their existence?

That fireworks display which Charleroi either had or didn't have has provoked considerable talk in town.

With football declared law-breaking, what will the autumn girl do for a hero?

Those new skirts which bind at the knees and then some are said to have something on the cutaway effect of the sheath gowns. The next style will doubtless be something of more than gown.

Don't Worry About the Money. Just Ask Us About Our Liberal Credit System

THEY MUST MOVE LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S OXFORDS

When you can place money at a rate of ten per cent interest you do consider that a number one investment, which shows your keen business sense.

Well, here is a chance to use that good sense. Excessive buying and unfavorable weather conditions so far leaves us still an unbroken line of the famous "Red Cross" and "Buster Brown" Oxfords, which I offer you right in the middle of the oxford season at a big saving of a

10 per cent reduction on every pair in the store

Say! Is that not extraordinary when the best weather for oxfords is still to come? I am giving you an honest, clean ten per cent on each pair. Look at my windows and see the regular display and prices, off which you get the ten per cent. No joking; no two-cent stamps cut, bragged up as a bargain, but a real ten per cent off. Come at once. Do not wait until the sizes are all broken up. Remember, "the early bird catches the worm."

THE SOAP DISPLAY

in our window will remain another week, so call often and make your guess as to the number of cakes used in the U. S. Capitol Building, as you may be the fortunate one to get all or one of the prizes.

Very Important:

We notice from our Estimate Record Books during the last weeks sales that the people are estimating beyond reason, their estimates ranging from 10,000 to 1,000,000. To put everybody right we wish to inform you that the window display is not all soap but one layer of soap and mirrors built in front of a large framework of lumber. In order that you may estimate the exact number possibly, during this week we will continue the sale one week longer before tearing it down, in order that you may make new estimates where you have overestimated by making new purchases.

Remember the price of each cake continues 5c a cake instead of 25c a cake
